

THIRD VICTORY WON BY MACKMEN IN CLOSE FINISH

Oldring was able to get his bat on the ball safely.

Factors in Success.

It was not alone by batting that the Athletics won, for both their fielding and Bender's pitching were factors that helped to bring success. The Indian twirler was at the top of his form, except in the seventh and eighth innings. He gave but one base on balls and hit one batter. The Giants gathered but two hits off his delivery until the seventh, and their total was eight. The redman fanned five. For the Giants, Burns made two hits, one a double, while Larry McLean singled twice in twice at bat.

The game was played under the most favorable weather conditions of the series to date, the sun finally shining through rifts in the clouds and upon a field comparatively dry and fast.

To-day's game was the last in which the players participate in the receipts. According to the unofficial figures, there will be distributed among the players $15,000. The Athletics will receive 60 per cent of this total and the losers 40 per cent. The national commission will receive 25 per cent. The men on the winning side will get each $25, and each member of the losing team $20.

Snodgrass, first up for New York, raised a high foul, which Baker gathered in without effort. Doyle sent up a long fly to Strunk. Fletcher retired the male by grounding to Barry, who threw him out at first.

Close Play at Plate.

Murphy started Philadelphia's half by raising a fly to deep right center, and was out when Snodgrass made a fine catch, despite his limp. Oldring, who has hit safely the first time up in all the present world's series games, cut loose again and sent a terrific drive down the right field foul line for three bases. Collins chopped a grounder down to Merkle, who scooped up the ball and made a lightning throw to Snodgrass at first. The play at the plate was close and umpire Egan called Oldring out, at which the latter fired up and protested vigorously. Then came a daring play, which upset the crowd. Murphy, who had just struck out, was watching McLean signaling for the next ball. Collins made a dash for second. The young pitcher took the ball to Merkle, who threw to Snodgrass at first. The play was close, but the umpire called Oldring out.

Burns opened the second inning for the National Leaguers by flying out to Snodgrass. Doyle, a victim, was struck by a high fly to center. McLean hit a slashing single to right, on which Murray sprinted. Doyle sent up a high fly to Burns, which McLean caught.

In Philadelphia's half of the second, Snodgrass, on account of his "charley horse," could not reach first. Doyle, however, the number was safe at first. Strunk sacrificed, Demaree to Merkle, advancing McLean to second. After Merkle had dropped Barry's high fly, the Philadelphia slapper sent a solid drive down the left field line for two bases, on which McLean scored. Barry complained to the umpires that Merkle interfered with him in rounding home, but the arbitrators paid no attention to it. Schang drew a base on balls. Bender sent a high fly to Burns, and Murphy lifted one to Snodgrass.

Demaree was warmly welcomed by the fans as he stepped to the plate. He sent a long fly to Murphy, who had to do a little sprinting to get it. Snodgrass bunted, and was easily out. Bender to McLean. Doyle raised a fly to Strunk.

Snodgrass Taken Out.

Manager McGraw then took Snodgrass out of the game, sending him to the field and Herzog to third base. Oldring was an easy out on his grounder. Demaree to Merkle. Collins lifted a fly to Burns, and Baker went out Doyle to Merkle.

The Giants were quickly retired in the first half of the third. Fletcher protested against Egan's calling of a strike, and he and the umpire argued. The moment, however, was over. Burns sent a high fly to Baker, and the arbitrators paid no attention to it. Schang drew a base on balls. Bender sent a high fly to Burns, and Murphy lifted one to Snodgrass.

Demaree was warmly welcomed by the fans as he stepped to the plate. He sent a long fly to Murphy, who had to do a little sprinting to get it. Snodgrass bunted, and was easily out. Bender to McLean. Doyle raised a fly to Strunk.

Opening the fifth inning Murray drew a base on balls. McLean shipped a single to center, on which Murray went to third.

AID FOR STRICKEN FAMILY.

Mother and Three Small Children Helped by Norfolk People.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Norfolk, Va., October 10.—Praising the people of Norfolk for their charity, Mrs. Maggie Sweet, with three small children, is preparing to leave tomorrow for Henry. The little family arrived here several days ago in dire need of assistance. The children were without proper clothing, and their mother said they had not tasted food for many hours. She said her husband lost one of his arms while working in a quarry near Roanoke. The people of Henry told her to come to Norfolk. She said they told her the people here were very charitable and would buy clothes for her children and give them food.

The pitiable condition of the mother and children excited the sympathies of Police Chief Kizer and many citizens, and arrangements were made to send them back to Henry. They were provided with clothes, food and transportation, and the mother was given $20 to help her after she reached home.

RAILROADS BROUGHT BIGGEST CROWDS YET

Passenger Figures Show That Fair Week Travel Exceeds Past Year Records.

HOTELS TURN PEOPLE AWAY

Fair Attendance Cut Down When Rain Kept City Folk Home.

The total number of out-of-town visitors in Richmond during Fair Week has been from 10 to 25 per cent larger this year than before in the history of the Virginia State Fair Association, according to records of railway officials, hotel managers, street railway superintendents and others who have special facilities for getting the total number of visitors in the city. Rain kept thousands of Richmond people from the Fair Grounds, but apparently had little or no effect on visitors who came here in larger numbers than ever before. Every hotel was filled to its capacity every night, with extra cots, and with a much larger number of advance reservations than at any previous fair.

Railroads Use More Equipment.

Every railroad entering the city operated more equipment this year to handle the crowd than at any previous fair. Street car travel to the Fair Grounds has been slightly less than last year, though the averages about that of the fair of 1911, but there has been a noticeable increase in general street car traffic throughout the city. Visitors to the city who have been kept from the Fair Grounds by rain have spent their time in shopping, and at all of the hotels last night an army of bell boys engaged in sorting out and delivering to the rooms hundreds of packages, some of the department stores sending motor truck loads to each hotel. Tired of the long-drawn-out damp spell which will neither settle down to a serious rain or clear off, many turned homeward last night who would otherwise have stayed over Sunday. Though there was less obvious crowding, every hotel in the city had a capacity crowd last night.

Chesapeake and Ohio Hauls in 5,000.

W. O. Warthen, assistant general passenger agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio line, said last night that from careful estimates made by Stationmaster E. T. Whitlock, at Main Street Station, based on individual reports from conductors of incoming trains, the Chesapeake and Ohio line brought into Richmond approximately 5,000 fair visitors. The estimate was made in order that the road might be provided with the necessary equipment to carry back the crowd in the different directions. Last year the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company settled with the fair association for exactly 5,115 coupons of incoming train fares, the Chesapeake and Ohio line brought into Richmond approximately 5,000 fair visitors.
